

Aruban lawyer Paul van der Sloot passes away while playing tennis

ORANJESTAD – Known local lawyer Paul van der Sloot passed away Wednesday night. He was playing tennis when at a certain moment his body caved in. Information received was that an ambulance was called and the paramedics immediately started reanimation on site. He was taken to the hospital, but not much could be done to save his life.

Paul van der Sloot made news locally and internationally when his son, Joran van der Sloot, became the main suspect in the case of the disappearance of American tourist, Nathalie Holloway.